Our Father's Invitation

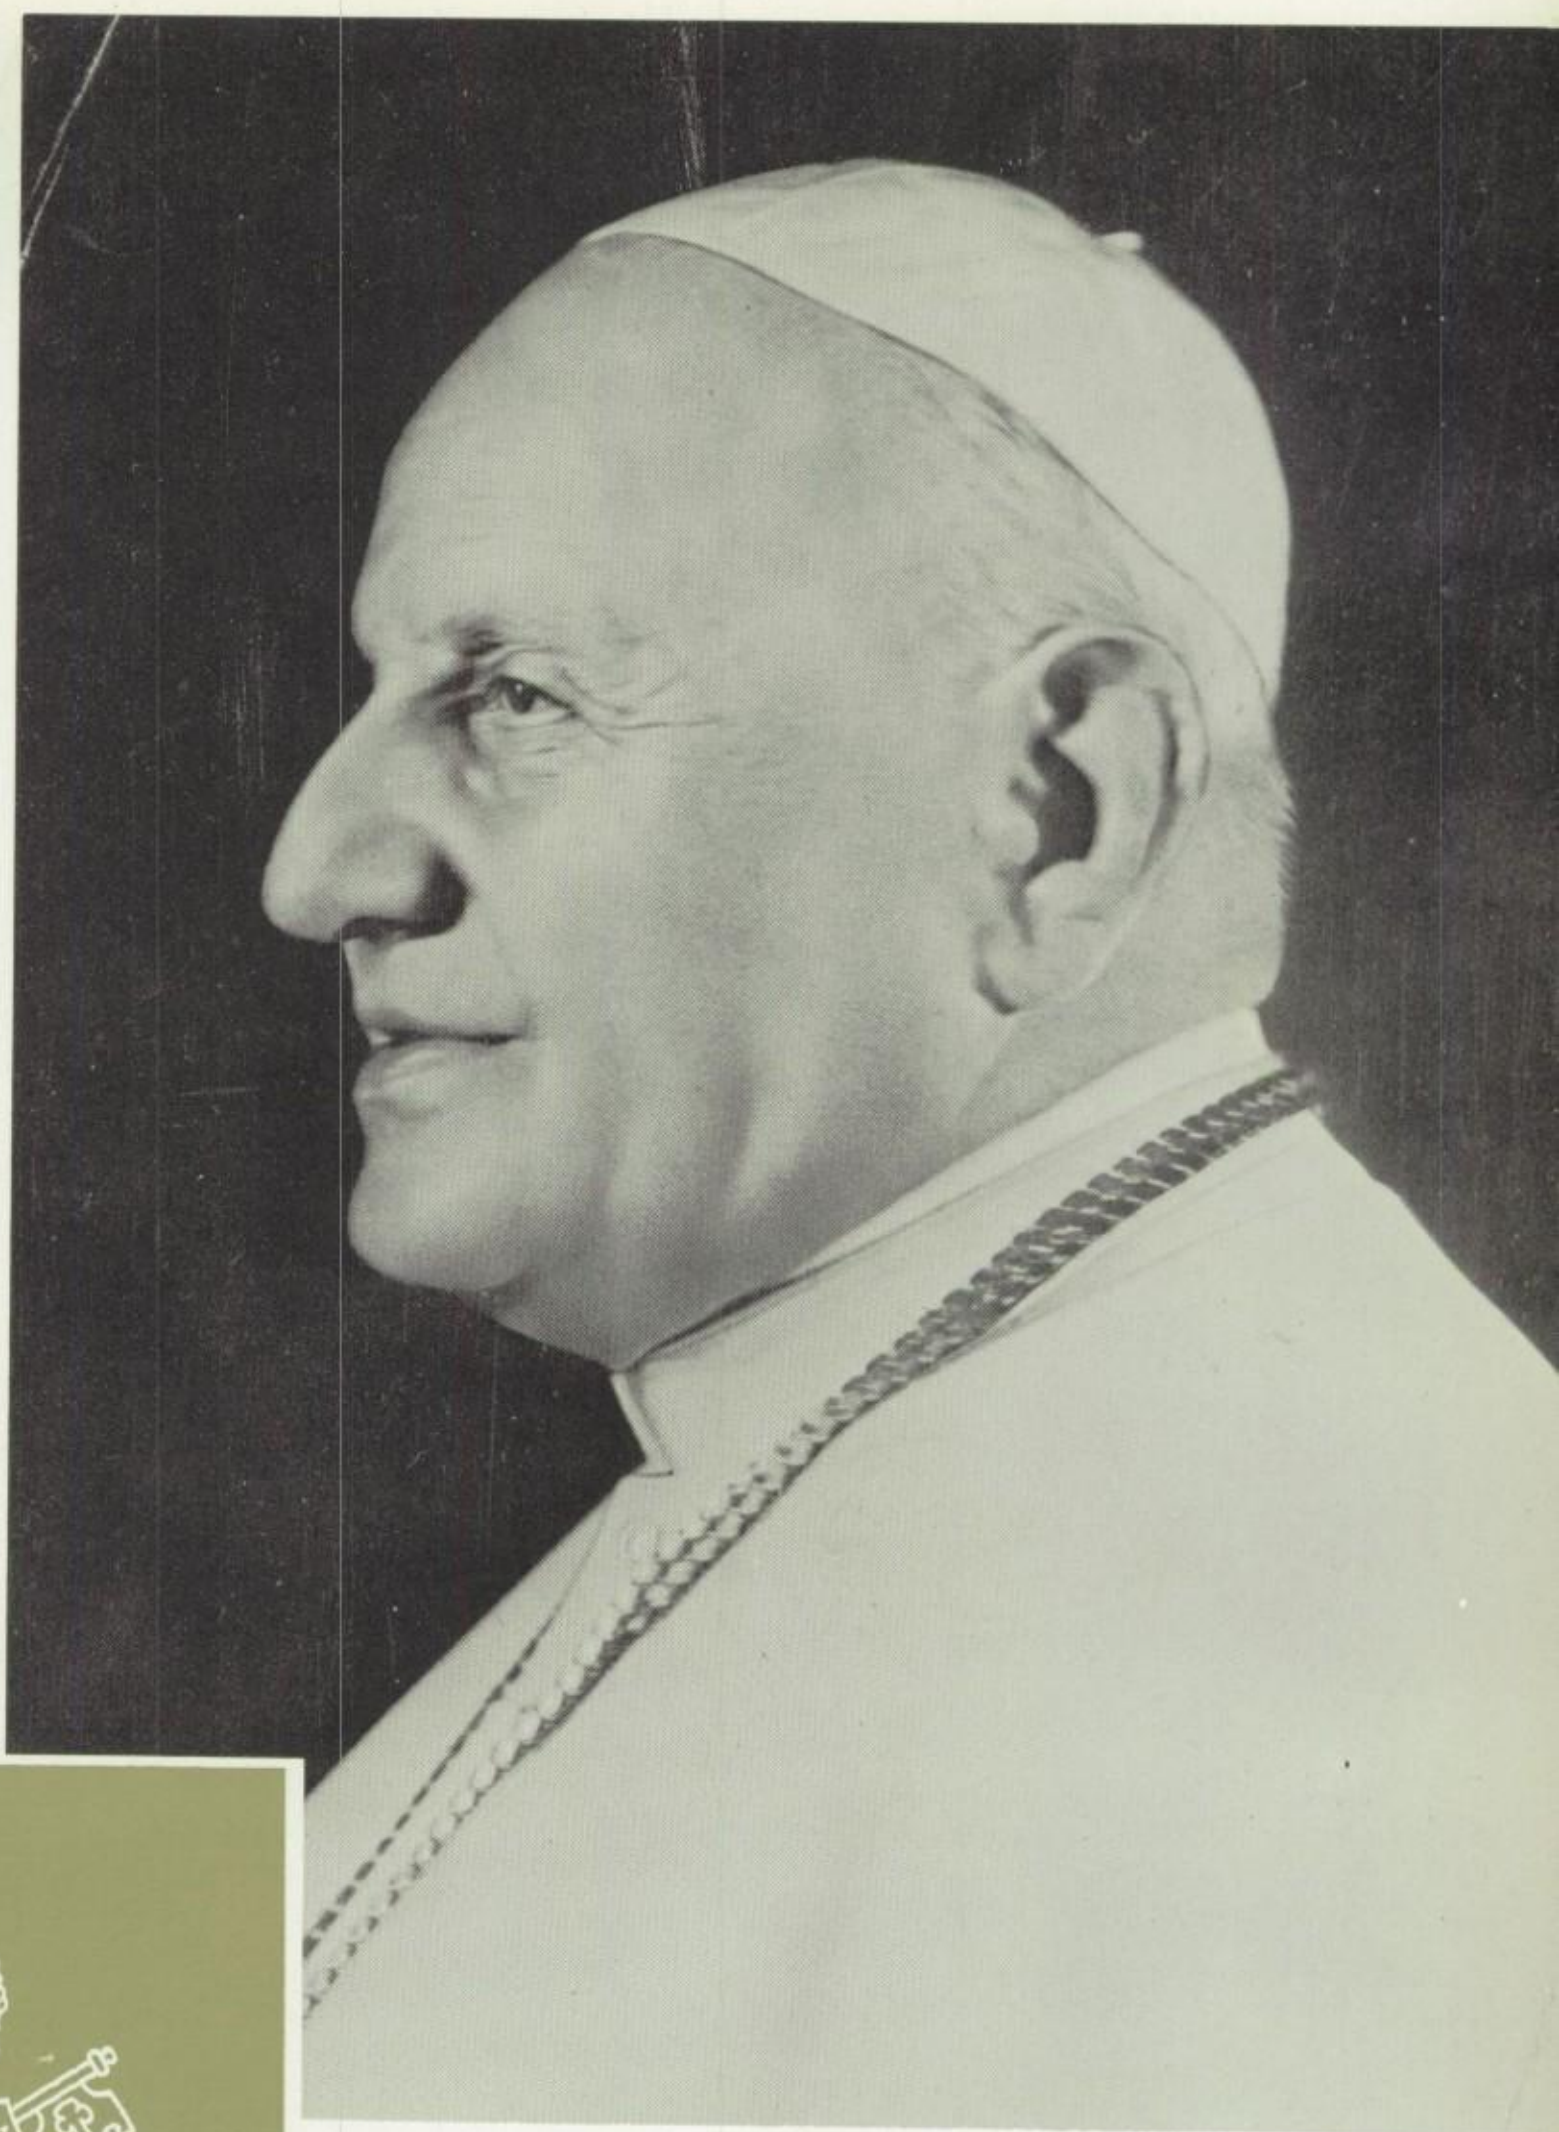

As the visible head of the Mystical Body, Pope John XXIII has shown himself a loving father, profoundly interested in the spiritual welfare of all God's children.

By convoking the Twenty-first Ecumenical Council (world-wide assembly of his bishops), our Holy Father has extended to our separated brethren the Church's traditional invitation—"to return to their Father's house."

Devoting himself to the large scale organization required, and sparking the curiosity of other religious denominations, our Holy Father has worked tirelessly to span the gap in men's faith. This undertaking is tremendous for it seeks the universal union of hearts, the unreserved accord of spirits, and the mutual consensus of minds.

We the graduating class wish to dedicate the 1961 GATEWAY to the Supreme Pontiff John XXIII, in recognition of his far reaching efforts toward a unified Christian world. In addition, we hope this dedication will be an impetus urging us to pray for the Council's fruition. For if all the faithful vie with each other in the fervor of their prayers, then the Council shall, in the words of Our Holy Father achieve, "Unity in essentials; liberty in doubtful matters; charity in all."

Our Holy Father
POPE JOHN XXIII

Gateway to Unity

OUR LADY

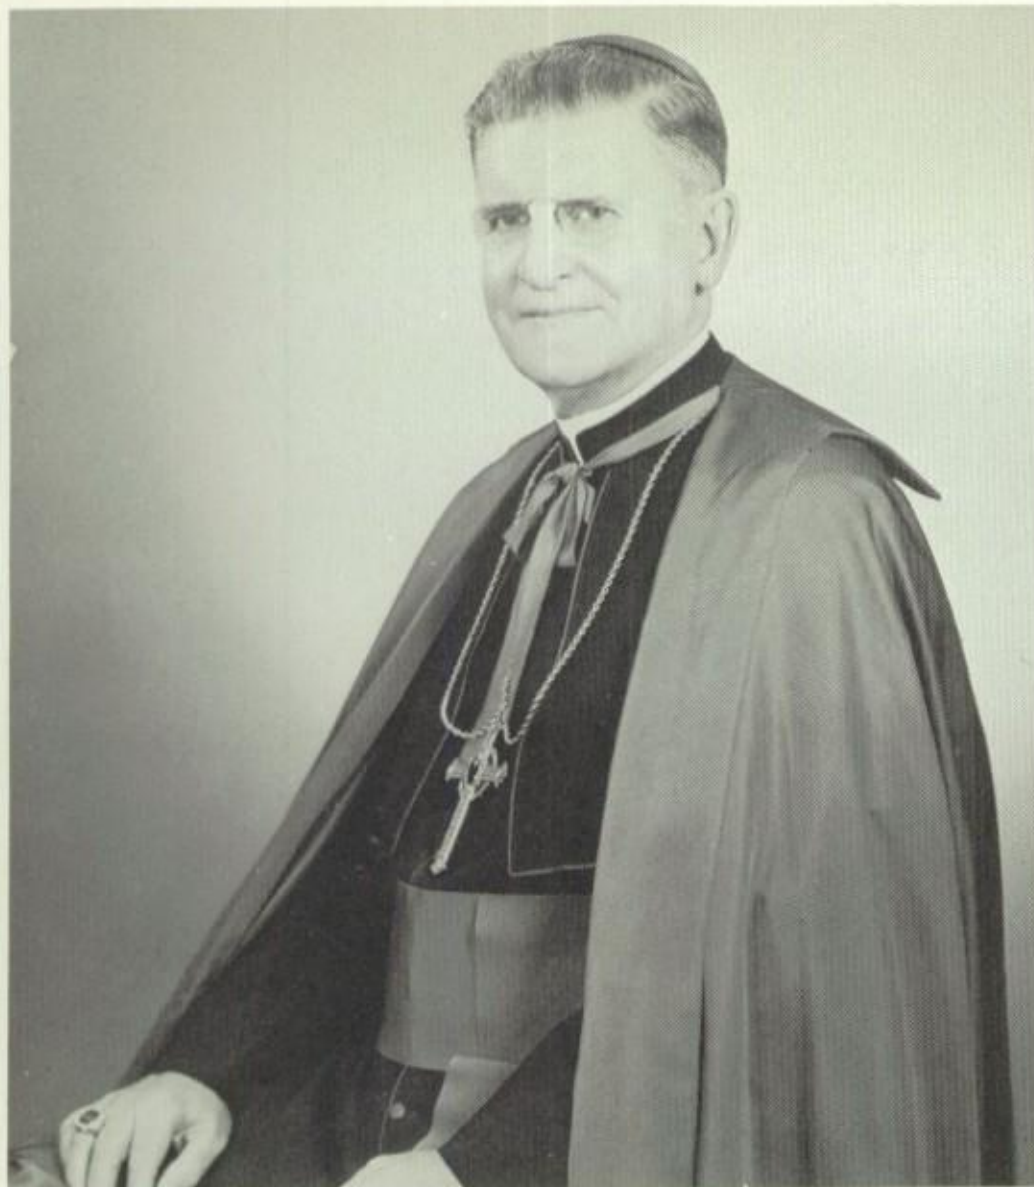

In the universal recognition of truth lies the basis for unity and peace. Unity is achieved only through the combined spirit of charity and understanding. With the Pope as our head, we bear testimony to Truth itself, Jesus Christ, Who found eternal expression in His Catholic Church.

Saint Francis Xavier Academy possesses this cherished unity on a much smaller scale. Our curricular studies unite our minds in learning, and co-curricular activities draw us together in enjoyment. The faculty mirrors the sturdy chain which Christ's love forges. Truly it's not a rash presumption to say that our school is a blueprint of what the proposed Council hopes to achieve.

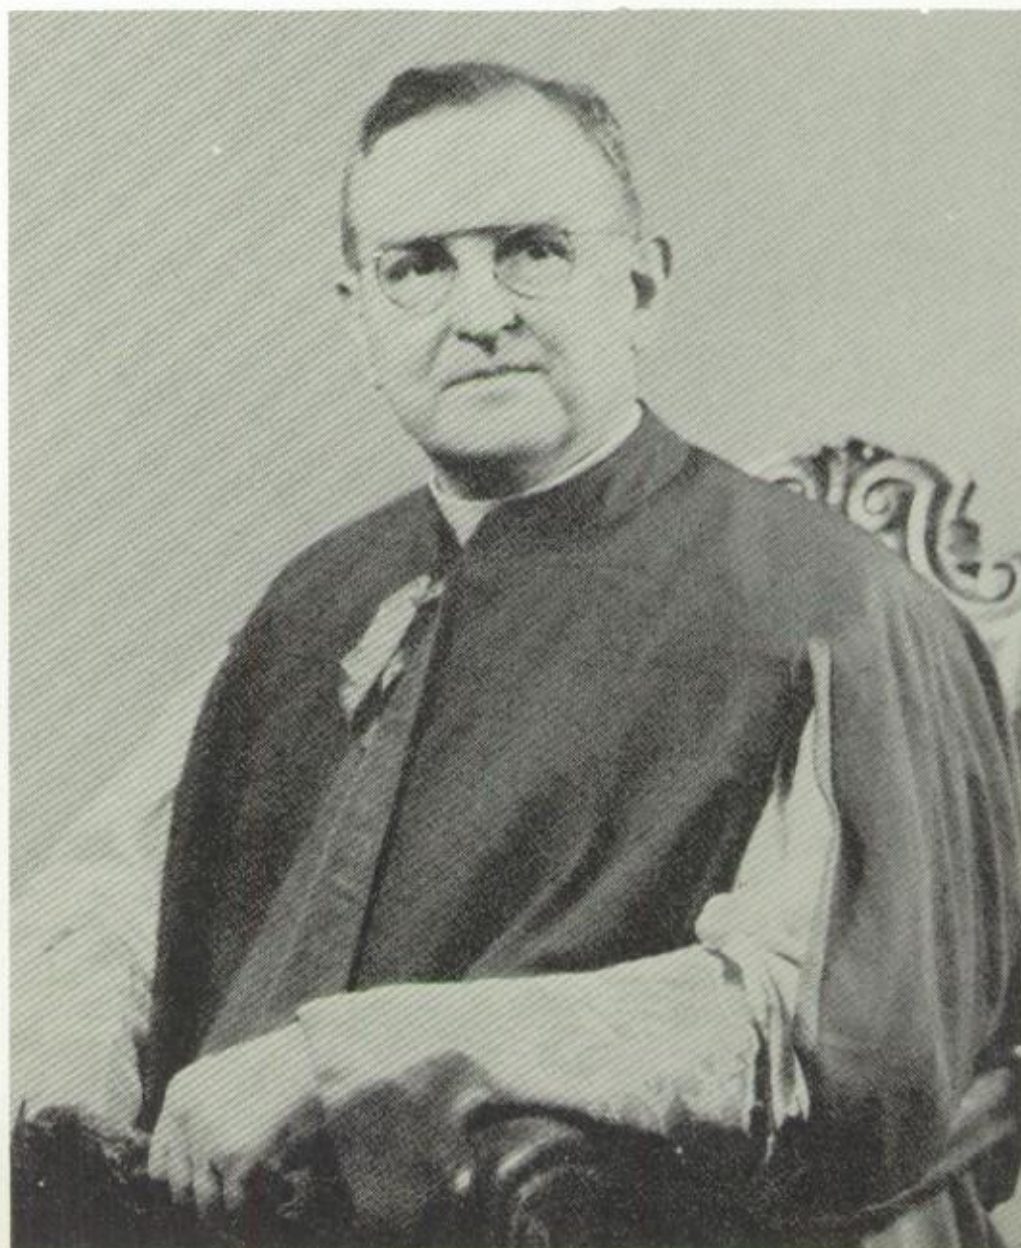

Realizing that our Catholic schools and universities are an essential part of Christ's true Church, we ask all students to pray that God, through the Ecumenical Council, will "unite all minds in truth and all hearts in charity."

Most Reverend
BRYAN JOSEPH McENTEGART as Bishop of Brooklyn is a member of the scheduled Ecumenical Council. His Excellency has witnessed the unity and loyalty of his people by the overwhelming success of his recent building campaign.

Right Reverend MONSIGNOR
EDWARD P. HOAR V. G.
is pastor of Saint Francis Xavier Parish.
For his friendly interest in all the Academy projects, the Xaverites are ever grateful.

Sister M. Florence Josephine
Our Principal

In

working out life's pattern, our years at Saint Francis passed quickly. During these years we have learned much to develop our mental and spiritual growth. As we advanced in age, and we hope in wisdom, the Sisters lead us toward the fulfillment of our one purpose in life — to do all for the love and glory of God. Together as a unit we worship Him; united in hope and love we serve Him.

We give to you, Sisters, our deepest thanks for your sincere and earnest efforts in instructing us how to make this a better world. We appreciate all you have taught us—unity, truth, love, and service; for without these where would be life's purpose and inspiration.

Unity through the Years

Our student body is a mosaic—an object of colorful art design which must delight Our Heavenly Father in its harmonious development. Here, our working pieces, the Freshmen, Sophomores and Juniors fill in their respective patterns in our mold of unity. Though we, Seniors sometimes survey this mosaic with a patronizing air, we are truly interested in its color, composition, and completion.

In the balanced design, we see the Freshmen in the shades of tender green. The timid little things are bogged down (thanks to the Sophs) with wild tales of midnight tussels with Latin and Algebra. They are generosity personified. If a Senior should complain of malnutrition, “presto,” a shaky hand offers home-made delicacies. Wide-eyed, open-mouthed, these are our Freshmen.

Shocking at first is the sophomore pattern in red and orange hues. True to color, Sophomores’ laughter is a trifle too loud, their conversation over exuberant, and their manner noticeably affected. They are queens of all they survey, or so they think.

Juniors wisely lend tempering shades of blue to the almost completed mosaic. Willingly they accept the responsibility preparatory to Seniorhood. They join anything and everything. Whether it entails ferreting out news for the Courier, cheering themselves hoarse in the bleachers or rebounding on the basketball court, the Juniors are ever present and active. Aptly does Milton express the underclassmen’s status when he writes “They also serve who only stand and wait” . . . to be Seniors.

"Hands across the Years" . . . PATRICIA MULLINS, Jane Brigante, SABINA LA VEGLIA, Irene Tramposh, SUSAN ZOZZARO, and Constanza Messina receive greetings from Collette Skeffington, Patricia O'Hara, and Margaret Hurley.

Unity Begins as Freshmen

With gloves tugged tight, beret pulled down, the timid tense Freshman enters the Academy gate. Her alert pace is reduced to a reluctant gait. Maternally assured, she mustered up courage this morning to board the bus. But now as she approaches her five-hour-a-day home, she feels a pebble in her throat and her heart about to capsize. Stifling the idea of hiding behind a bush, she enters her classroom. Soon her self-consciousness will find an outlet in that altruistic phrase, "Oh, let me help with that", and her reticence in a line of chatter.

She will desperately fumble for her bus pass as she attempts to balance herself with both arms full of books. Of course she will wield a dripping paint brush, and don her mother's tea apron to spatter paint. During Glee Club rehearsal, she will sing lustily the flat note, and at a game cheer frantically the visiting team's basket.

However, her eagerness and all-out desire to please will sustain her and unite her with her upper classmen.

ALGEBRA

Is there anything more unknown to the Freshmen than knowing how to solve for the unknowns? How am I going to get it? Sounds familiar doesn't it? Algebra is something new and at times can be puzzling. After all, like everything else, it is an adjustment. You have to be patient, take your time and think it through, in this way, too, will the Freshmen show the world the fool-proof formula—(mind + truth) + (heart + charity) = unity.

Laws with Lots of Loopholes . . . explains D. Morotta and D. Quinn to M. Harsche, L. Maranda, C. De Vita, and J. Knopka.

WORLD SURVEY

This "fuzzy edged" subject, so closely linked with many fields, introduces Freshmen to a world-wide survey. While studying man's environment, the novice meteorologist delves into the problems of climate, air pressure, and winds. The global occupations bring the belching steel mills, humming ship yards, and patches of farm land into view. For potential diplomats, foreign policies and politics must supplement this storage of world knowledge.

Finally they take on government organization and the responsibilities of citizenship. After this epic year of study the girls realize that Civics was not an all-year-round Lenten penance but a rewarding knowledge.

Nieces or Nephews? . . . M. Hourn and R. Daly show R. Cardona, S. La Veglia, K. Kusterbeck, and M. Cassidy Uncle Sam's new states.

LIBRARY

Xavierites thankfully step into the library. Pursuing the shelves, the literatus will gravitate to Shakespeare's corner; the dreamer may run across "Lost Horizon"; and the humorist find Ogden Nash. The Websters are well thumbed for eight syllable words and for some one-syllable "teasers". For those who enjoy the scholarly atmosphere, but prefer to browse, there are the popular magazine racks.

ART

Three different attitudes are common to astonished Freshmen who see art on their program. The first, art-gifted, are overjoyed at the prospect of developing this talent. The second, almost automatically regard art as a losing battle as they have no artistic bent. Finally, the third, nonchalant, never consider art seriously. However, a freshman soon learns, through careful guidance and instruction, that she can develop her talents, conquer the seemingly impossible, and develop a deep interest in her art class.

BIOLOGY

Do you know Biology is the fun of cutting up frogs and dissecting tiny bees and actually getting credit for it? Did you try removing the heart and wind up with the liver instead, or think you've misplaced some poor insect's antennae and find it has been on your dissecting needle all along? Biology is fun and it can be even more so if you have a keen, imaginative mind. After all, everybody can't mush around like that and gain a unit toward graduation.

Unity Developes as Sophomores

Walking in an aurora of sophistication, their self-assurance would challenge the Freshmen's envy and the Juniors' disdain. Whenever on exhibition, they traipse like Grecian sylphs, and when unobserved, they squirm like badgers into the lunch line. Having completed one year's apprenticeship, they feel entitled to top privileges. Because geometry supplements algebra, they feel sure of solving the most difficult calculus problems. After a month's translation of the Gallic Wars, they ask, "Couldn't Caesar have won more quickly using my plan of military strategy?" With a French vocabulary of little more than "Oui" or "Non" they aspire to converse with a Sorbonne student.

On the social side, the sophs jam the soda shop every day, forcing the Seniors to form a queue while The Sophs sip sodas. They truly appreciate the power of the written word. They gobble up the news on the bulletin board, anticipate invitations to St. Augustine's hops, and St. Francis' dances and avidly keep the sports books in circulation. Of course, Sister encourages their reading anything besides fiction and is overjoyed when a soph shows interest in archery, basketball, football, and photography. Doubtless the sporting tendency hinges on the fact that a certain someone is an ace archer, a crackerjack dribbler or formidable football tackler.

When all is said and done, the Sophomores with all their fancy foibles are loved and enjoyed.

"G-I'm-on-a-Tree! Way Out on a Limb" . . . seems evident by the expressions of M. Gilfillian, J. Ferreri, R. McCarthy, E. Brennan, M. Velardi, F. Bavetta and E. Savino.

HISTORY

Who, when, and where? Oh, those familiar questions that race through each Xavierite's mind during a history quiz. What do these questions mean and why must we learn the answers? The main reason is that the history of the past creates a handbook for the future. We must remember that someday our generation will make a new dateline mark on the chart of the past.

Unity Completes as Juniors

As the mosaic reaches its third stage the Juniors finally settle down to business. Formerly fearing that studying would turn her into a bespectacled spinster, she now finds that learning rounds out her personality, that moderation wins her admiration, and that dedication to an ideal merits her self-esteem.

Every Junior wishes to finish off Cicero and Catiline with a bang, because they are her nightly headaches and frustrations.

Experimenting with chemical formulas and studying a stable element or two, the Junior Miss probes into the world of the Divine Chemist. Here she enjoys every moment of chem—the colors of crystals, the tiring titrations, even the choking fumes of ammonia.

Maturing in mind, she is likewise maturing in her reading tastes. Transported by the "Idylls of the King", the Junior looks to restore ideals of knighthood and chivalry. Analyzing and interpreting the wizardry that Hawthorne sets forth in the "House of Seven Gables", she sagely declares it childish.

Juniors welcome June even though the Regents are silhouetted in the oncoming days, for they realize that the exam hurdles once jumped will leave them within the Senior's circle.

Our every period at St. Francis begins and ends with a prayer, and every other period, no matter how enjoyable, is considered second to our Religion class.

From the first term to the eighth, the student is engrossed with increasing her knowledge of God and His wonders. Our Religion course includes the sacraments, the Mass, the Scriptures, Church History, encyclicals, and supplementary reading. For, in learning of Him, we come to know, love, and serve Him better.

As we enter a world of divided religious beliefs with skeptics, agnostics, and atheists, this knowledge will help us to express the truths of the one true church, and contribute a mite toward the unification of divided Christianity.

Although literature plays an important part in the English course at St. Francis, don't imagine our educational program stops there. It consists of spelling, vocabulary, derivation, grammar, journalism, term papers, propaganda, fallacies, panels, debates, essays, poetry, and reading reports. After this a Ph.D. will be a breeze.

Unity Through Co-Curricular

Besides our scholastic curriculum, students are given the opportunity to participate in many co-curricular activities ranging from Legion of Mary to athletics. Our girls dedicate much of their time to the Legion. They give their hearts to those less fortunate by visiting orphanages and helping the sick and needy. This tremendous work does not go unnoticed for it is soul-satisfying and heart-warming to know that they are aiding God's unfortunate children. Moreover, the Student Body shows the spirit of unity through the many altruistic requests made to them during the year.

In our two musical clubs, Glee and Orchestra, our students are offered opportunities to exhibit their musical ability in reading and playing music. These furnish helps to the enjoyment and appreciation of melody which will be of value to them no matter what the future holds. Then our publications, Gateway and Courier, provide an outlet for our students' literary, creative and artistic talents and a challenge to those with a photographic bent. Our Art Club, too, gives the Xavierite an outlet to demonstrate her innate artistic ability. All members are interested in doing and completing their projects in order to advance their hobbies. Our French Club provides an opportunity for French into practice, thus maintaining oral fluency for the bilingual students.

Basketball is our favorite sport. Practices are held twice a week giving sufficient time to develop athletic proficiency. Relay races, foul shooting, and bowling help in muscular coordination. Cheering provides another outlet for zest and energy.

All these organizations are useful in helping to promote unity among the students, and love and loyalty to St. Francis and the maroon and gold.

"Action and Reaction" . . . displays the spirit of A. Culley, R. Rimovics, P. D'Amato, B. Burke, and R. Tumolillo.

Legion of Mary

"Seek ye first the kingdom of God, and all other things shall be added unto you." Despite their pre-occupation with scholastic studies, Xavierites try their best to adhere to Christ's words by seeking Him through devotion to His Blessed Mother. Students demonstrate external devotion by their weekly attendance at one of the four Legion praesidia meetings. Legionnaires also attempt to spread this devotion to their holy Queen by the performance of charitable works of mercy which include aid to hospitals, care of the deaf, blind, orphans, old folks, and the missions.

"An Army of Youth" . . . lead by Sister Agnes Dorothy, pray for the peaceful unity of the world.

"A Pledge and a Promise to Pray" . . . are made by Sister Agnes Dorothy and members of Maria Pieta Praesidium—M. Bluemke, K. Ging, A. Schultz, S. Cottingham, M. Pelletier (President), A. Attianese (Vice President), K. FitzGerald, R. Kennedy, M. Favicchio, B. Malanka.

"Forging a Chain of Prayer for Unity" . . . are J. Franco, M. Pizzimenti, R. Dimino, J. Brigandi (President), M. Finnegan (Vice-President), C. Murphy, E. Blake, and M. Forlano of Our Lady of the Snows Praesidium, Sister Agnes Dorothy, Moderator.

"The Party's Over" . . . but not for D. Franza because she heads the "clean up committee" at St. Boniface Deaf Center.

"If They Could Vote" . . . they would elect C. Skeffington "Queen of the Hostesses."

Leo Honor Society

Each year a chosen few are accepted into the Diocesan Leo Honor Society. The gold pin which members wear is not only a symbol of high scholastic grades, but also of efficient leadership and active participation in parish activities. Thus, to become one of its members a girl must be a well-rounded student.

"Our Brain Bank" . . . E. Sandquist, M. Matarese, A. Attianese, P. D'Amato, M. Montalbano, and R. Mullee prepare for their second year in the Leo Honor.

"Diocesan Distinction" . . . marks the efforts of Senior members, M. Van Valan, T. Caracciolo, S. Tyszka, K. McClean, J. Olanowich, D. Franza, and R. Dimino.

"Reading between the Lines" . . . explains why Juniors, R. Hamilton, L. Grocki, P. Marciano, C. Rathjens, D. DuBritz, and N. Lagana made the Leo Honor.

"Dog. Gone It. He Only Speaks French" . . . says K. FitzGerald as she, A. Schultz, and J. Meehan enter "La Petite Maison Francaise."

Le Cercle Francais

Once every month the spirited "La Marseillaise" rings out announcing a meeting of Le Cercle Français. These gatherings sparkle with the Gallic charm of Juniors and Seniors who stage French plays or deliver French ballads. Amid the atmosphere of French travel posters, miniature Eiffel Towers, and Alsatian dolls, the girls enjoy listening to talk of Medieval Avignon, the abbey fortress of Mt. St. Michele or Chateaux along the Loire. Finally our American and French culture are mingled during a game of French Bingo!

"Montmartre Comes to St. Francis" . . . prove artists P. D'Amato, A. Attianese, and M. Matarese to students R. Tumolillo, P. Marr, R. Dimino, M. Van Valen, S. Tyszka, D. Franza, J. Olanowich, and S. Louer.

"Our Retreat Master" . . . Reverend James Kirrane.

"Post-Conference Discussion" . . . R. Tumolillo leads a session of classmates, C. Volk, F. McCahill, V. Tortorello, I. Kelly, R. Kennedy, A. Maine, and M. Lang.

Retreat

Retreat is one of the contemplative moments in Xavier's life. The prayerful attitudes and actions of the girls mirror Father's lectures and explanations. It is a time when we are able to reflect, to think, and resolve to emerge the ideal Xavierite, the model Catholic, and the "Valiant Woman."

"No Retreat for March Winds" . . .
M. Van Valen, A. Attianese, A. Carr,

"In the Realms of Glory" . . . Xavierites honor our Queen.

May Crowning

May is set aside as a tribute to Mary. Here at St. Francis she holds first place in our hearts. Dressed in traditional white, Xavierites offer songs, prayers, and praises amidst a garden of flowers to Our Lady of the Campus. While Father Boyle officiates, Legionnaires form her honor guard, and Glee Club chants her hymns. Petitions and thanksgivings stream toward Heaven as the entire student body pledge their loyalty to Mary, Our Queen.

"Blessed Be God" . . . Father Thomas Boyle leads the Divine Praises.

"Serving with Honor" . . . are K. Cummins, M. Favicchio, R. KENNEDY, A. Attianese, A. Schultz, D. Franza, A. Maine, S. Cottingham, J. Markowski, M. Pelletier, B. Malanka, M. Bluemke.

"Marylike Misses" . . . describes G. Brigandi, R. Dimino, J. Franco, M. Matarese, K. Orkin, M. Carroll, M. PIZZIMENTI, T. Caracciolo, S. Tyszka, C. Murphy, M. Hurley, K. Logan, M. Finnegan, C. Skeffington, R. Corlito, K. Ging, K. FitzGerald, K. Volk.

Courier

Meeting that deadline at times seems quite an impossibility but the faithful Couriers always make it. When a cub reporter chooses 36 Bodoni Italic print for a one column spread or insists there are six picas to an inch, the patient veterans calmly and coolly try to teach her the journalistic "ropes."

Although sometimes cameras fail to click, bulbs to flash, negatives to please, and galleys to fit, still because of staff co-operation and efficiency, the Courier comes through.

Gateway Drive

In keeping with the campaign spirit, Xavier chose political party mascots to represent them in the annual Gateway Drive. With a promise of peanuts or sugar, elephants and donkeys pushed homeward to the White House.

As the campaign neared the finish, room 303 proudly took the platform as the victorious winner, while 102 won the second highest office. Because all the other candidates were so close, they were awarded high cabinet posts.

"White House Coverage" . . . performed by J. Markowski, R. Rimovics, M. Favicchio and A. Culley.

"Super Salesmen" . . . J. Ferreri, F. Bavetta, L. Corlito, S. LaVeglia, M. Lynch and R. Vitale receive their awards from Sister Florence Josephine.

"Sponsors + Efforts = GATEWAY" . . . proves M. Pelletier, C. Murphy, M. Carroll, R. Dimino, M. Bluemke, F. Meade and S. Cottingham.

"Advice Wanted" . . . Not with C. Volk and K. Orkin assisting L. Chandler and D. Franza.

Gateway

GATEWAY is the story of only one year of school-life, the current year. None realizes this more fully than the Yearbook Staff. Our hours and hours of combined efforts in lay-outs, typing, captions, and copy seek to produce a "Medalist."

Although our zealous efforts may be just short of perfect, our personal satisfaction suffices as our dream crystallizes. When June rolls around, we shall see all our expectations and anxieties fulfilled. We know in future years we, the GATEWAY staff, can proudly claim, "I worked on Gateway."

"Measuring Up to Fitness" . . . are Editor-in-chief R. Curcio (center) with assistant-editor M. VanValen (left) and Literary editor A. Attianese (right).

"Room for Work—and Pleasure" . . . prove B. Burke, P. O'Hara, D. Mrowka, A. Basili, and S. Tyszka, B. Malanka (absent).

"Your Success Is Guaranteed" . . . demonstrates M. Montalbano to two future Gateway workers—A. Yanelli and A. Zisk.

"Artful Thinking" . . . illustrated by C. Palmieri, R. Rimovics (President), M. Coffey, J. Galletta, M. O'Rourke, E. Duncan, H. Kennedy, D. DuBritz, and E. Tutone.

Art Club

Each Wednesday, the budding sculptors and painters of the Art Club engage in different projects. At present it is creating mosaics. For the Christmas holidays, perhaps they'll make snow balls from the soap suds. It's fascinating to do and to watch. Even if a girl has no intention of entering the art field, at least she has an opportunity of working with others, contributing original ideas, and getting the feeling of color, harmony, and design.

"Crusading for Christ" are R. Curcio and R. Tumolillo as they display their bulletin.

"Help Wanted" . . . G. Brigandi, and B. Malanka hope to stir the need for prayers.

"Coke Plus Cones Equals Calories" . . . M. Matarese and C. Frey buy from K. Cummins as F. McCahill and B. Malanka buy from F. Meade.

Cafeteria

Munch! Munch! Munch! This is the lunchtime sound heard as one reaches the cafeteria. Passing the tables, one can't resist satisfying a sweet tooth. For the calorie-watcher, table passing is difficult. Passing up the ice cream and coke section is even more difficult, but one must suffer to be beautiful! Oh, we'll worry about pounds tomorrow, and eat today! And so proving the display conquers the calorie-counter.

"Not a Crumb for the Rich," moan Eileen O'Donnell and Judy Olanowich as they approach the bun counter.

"Operation Deep-freeze" . . . with P. Marr as she searches in vain for her favorite flavor.

"Bonnie Bun Buyers" . . . are K. Orkin, J. Moringiello, J. Calmthout, M. Favicchio, M. Bluemke and M. Hurley who get their daily sweets from M. Carroll and J. Franco.

"Tuneful Teens" . . . are A. MAINE, B. Malanka, M. VanValen, M. McCarthy, J. Jacobsen, E. Ross, D. Pachesa, K. O'Connor, K. Cummins, M. Favicchio, K. Polito, L. BAUMANN, R. Hamilton, M. Moran, B. Burke, P. Si-ano, J. Boden, A. Gallagher, J. Olanowich, D. Franza, L. Chandler, C. Frey, A. Attianese, C. BOTTONE, J. Mc-

Neil, J. Meehan, M. Bluemke, P. Marciano, C. Rathjens, M. MacCardy, N. Duffy, M. Munro, P. Marr, Z. Sommerlad, M. FISHER, F. Conti, M. Grady, K. Wojeik, B. Wendel, R. Thorson, P. Reilly, M. Keegan, J. Markowski, R. Rimovics, A. Carr.

Glee Club

Our glee club is just that—gleeful. This medley of lyrical lassies may boast of accomplishments on folk songs, show tunes, and liturgical chant. Our musical misses don't sneak up on a note. The silvery sopranos and the abysmal altos meet every Thursday. Their aim—to create perfect tonal contrast. Their singing delights the student body and gives each girl a buoyant breather from studies. To wind up the Fall semester, the carol-garbed girls visit the Old Folks Home. They bring merry spirits and a Christmas repertoire. A concert competition highlights the Spring semester. So when you feel your heart sing and your feet take wing, it's time to get together in a song.

"Practice Makes Perfect" . . . prove J. Schaefer, A. O'Brien, B. Sheehan, E. Fitzgerald, J. Gibbons, B. Terlecki, K. Rhatigan, E. Whitmore, C. DeVito, J. Briganti, L. Marando, R. Haynes, L. WORTHY

"Distributing Harmony" . . . are President P. D'Amato and Vice President M. Chase.

"The Professional Approach"

"IT'S on Record" . . . that R. Kennedy and M. Pelletier are Glee Club officers.

"Playing Along" . . . is M. Lang while A. Allen looks on.

Orchestra

*Professor Dubbiosi is a musical soul,
And our orchestra leader is he.
He calls for his brass, and he calls for his strings,
And he calls for his woodwinds three.*

On Mondays and Tuesdays the orchestra girls answer the call. Although they practice until their lungs almost burst and their fingers cramp, yet their zealous efforts seem to show but small progress. Patience! Persistence! Practice proved itself in the spring festival. How much the audience enjoyed and appreciated the themes from the Apartment, Exodus and Summer Place!

"Following the Finest" . . . Professor Dubbiosi leads the practice.

"Strike up the Brass" . . . pertains to R. Thorsen, M. Del Gaizo, M. DiMattini, R. Haynes, M. Wood, E. Blake, E. Dugan, L. Lore, E. Fidurski, M. Martinson, C. Tomasuolo, B. Wendle, K. Dickson, F. Conte, E. Fitzgerald, M. McHugh, A. Basili, P. Coyne, A. Imbriali, J. Maine, M. Maher.

"Horning in" . . . are Seniors A. Basili and E. Blake.

"Senior String Society" . . . includes A. Culley, D. Mrowka, K. Schaefer, R. Curcio, T. Caracciolo, R. Tumolillo.

"Fit as a Fiddle" . . . illustrate D. Mrowka, R. Curcio, R. Tumolillo, G. Velardi, C. Hall, K. Schaefer, A. Culley, H. Nierwinska, C. Schwab, K. Penncavage, E. Ferrell, A. Nowosielski, M. Scott, M. Flynn, R. Drake, C. Rathjens, R. Kennedy, J. Konopka, P. Hall, M. Harsche, T. Caracciolo, P. Loughlin.

"High Hopes" . . . D. Gieorgi, B. Guadagno, and M. Gerasimski ambition to sing along with Carmen, Janice Matisse.

Congratulating the Leading Man of "La Boheme" . . . is G. Brigandi.

"The Joy of Giving" . . . P. Marr and J. Olanowich beam as they help to move the Thanksgiving canned goods donated to the Old Folk's Home.

"Our Miss Xavierite of 1961" . . . E. Sandquist, elected by the Student Body in the Courier contest, looks at the latest fashions.

"Presents for the Needy" . . . Portrays the Christmas Spirit of the Xavierites to the Trinitarians, Nursing Sisters, Euphrasian Homes.

"Xavierites, Past and Present" . . . meet at St. Joseph's College. J. Patrohe (1958), A. Attianese, P. D'Amato and J. Jacobsen smile for their pictures.

Hi-Ho St. Joe's" . . . Chorus T. Caracciolo, M. Matarese, M. Van Valen, K. McClean, P. D'Amato, B. Malanka, J. Jacobsen and R. Tumolillo on a visit to St. Joseph's College.

"Action for St. Joseph" . . . J. Jacobsen moves class identification cards as Xavierites campaign for Guild membership.

"And the Yearbook Makes Three" . . . as M. Montalbano and friend glance through the Gateway at the annual Press Day held at Bishop McDonnell High School.

"Keys to the Kingdom" . . . received from the graduates by F. Meade, K. McClean and M. Montalbano at Michel's, June 1960.

"A Day For Rejoicing" . . . as St. Francis starts its 1961 basketball season.

A t h l e t i c s

Precision! When we time a track meet or a basketball game we expect a watch to be precise. So too, we desire the same thing in our Xavierites. This means not so much precision in performance but precision in intention. This is a definite goal in our character training at Saint Francis. We begin with a prayer and we end in prayer. Athletics are no exception. You note that the varsity goes into a huddle before a game. It is our intention then to do and give our best, even if that best fails to bring us victory. So, too, in our volley ball, relay, cheering, intra-murals, and gym classes we strive to keep this ideal motivation.

Building sound minds in sound bodies is a policy followed in the spirit as well as in the letter at Saint Francis.

"The Objects of Our Affection" . . . are varsity members M. Montalbano, P. Loughlin, D. Kennedy, B. Burke, M. Wood, M. Lang, M. Keough, R. Drake, K. Dolan, M. Mulverhill, J. Markowski, E. Sandquist and P. O'Hara.

"The Varsity's Choice" . . . is Miss Patricia Keenan for Coach.

"Meet The New Veterans" . . . M. Montalbano, B. Burke, M. Lang, Captain P. O'Hara, E. Sandquist, and J. Markowski.

"Jumping at the Chance" . . . is M. Lang as B. Burke comes to her aid.

"Two Arms, Two Arms! Xavier Is Playing."

*"Hand in Hand" . . .

"Bowl Journey" . . . as traveled by M. McCarthy.

"Check Mates" . . . are M. McCarthy and P. D'Amato at the bowling alley.

"Weighing the Issue" . . . is R. Tumolillo.

Bowling Them Over

"Good Things Begin to Happen" . . . when Senior cheerleaders J. Moringiello, A. Culley, M. McCabe, J. Meehan and K. Schaefer cheer the team on.

Cheerleaders

"All for one and one for all," that's the spirit that animates Xavier's agile, vivacious cheerleaders. Wednesdays, they are perfecting their kicks, jumps, and rhythm so as to out-precision the Rockettes. When you see their antics and hear their cheers at the athletic meets, you realize the practice and school spirit that lies behind their display.

"What Do You Hear In The Best of Circles? Xavier All Around!" . . . demonstrate A. Culley, K. Schaefer, K. Dixon, J. Meehan, D. Murphy, R. Hamilton, K. O'Connor, V. Mullins, J. Moringiello, M. McCabe.

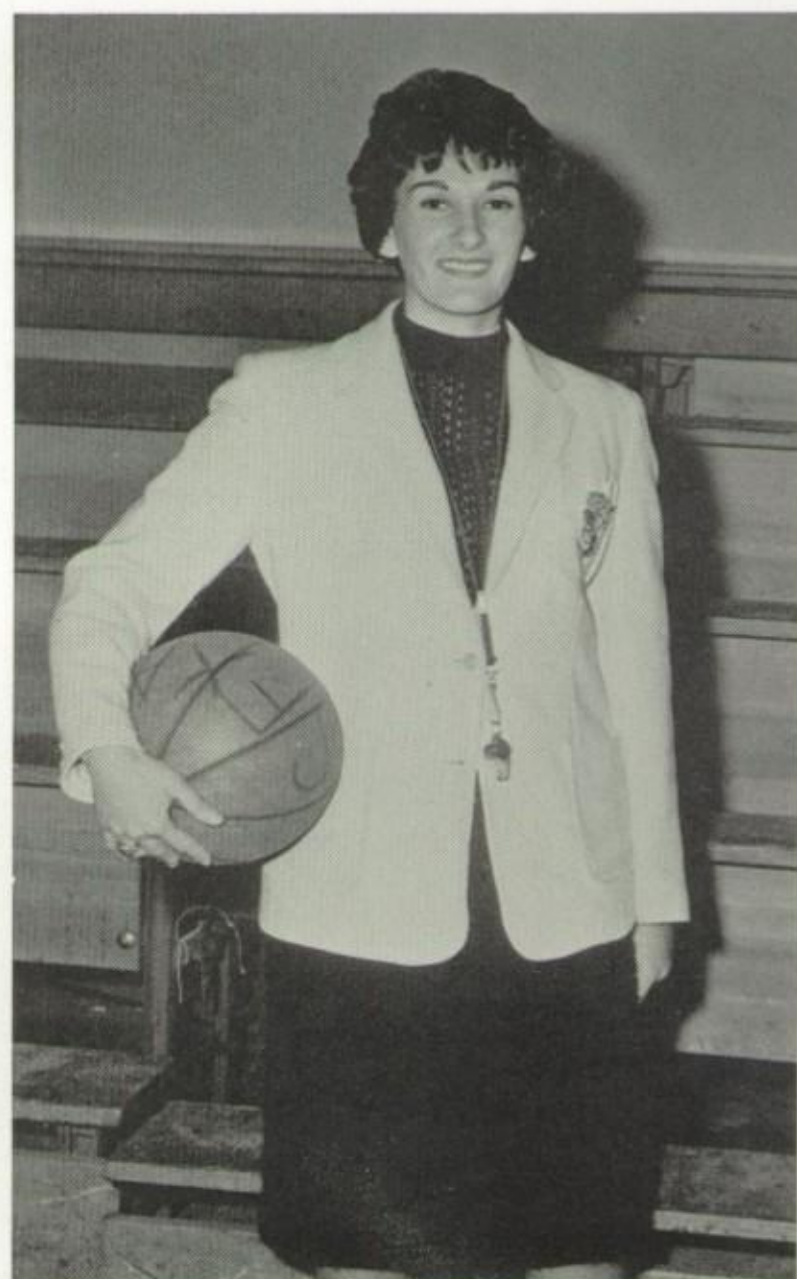

"In Orderly Array" . . . are cheerleaders: K. Dixon, J. Meehan, D. Murphy, A. Culley, R. Hamilton, K. O'Connor, J. Moringiello, V. Mullins, K. Schaefer, headed by captain M. McCabe.

"High Stepping Potentials" . . . are the Junior gym class.

Child in 204.

"Keeping Warm" . . . is pussy in 306.

"Old Fashioned Christmas" . . . as portrayed by 306 with D. Asten.

Unity Matures Seniors

After setting the final marble chips in place, the artist contently surveys his mosaic. Yes, he muses, the seniors are worthy of the golden yellow. And true to their color, seniors have that warm luster and cheering glow.

Senior participation makes the mosaic pulsate with life. The year's events has given them experience and confidence in many fields. For instance, with experienced taste, they select a Ring Day dress, dine out, and choose a worthwhile play to enjoy. Frequently, though hours of homework await, they enjoy musical treats, drumming up support in mission and Gateway drives, helping the unfortunate, decorating for holidays and cheering varsity efforts. A senior's world too, is made up of college board scores, scholarship applications, trig functions, round tables, and programs galore, yet all are deeply interested in sharing the hopes and ambitions of their sister seniors and unite with them in wishes and prayers for success.

Their preparatory years have ripened them. Confidence, leadership, and responsibility have highlighted their senior life and their future goals are limited only by the space horizons. As Catholic women, they are prepared to stand on their own and carry the banner of Christ. Their departing hope is that either by deed or example, they have contributed to the beauty of this Saint Francis Xavier mosaic.

Our "Last" Noel . . . May our wishbone never be broken.

Physics

Transmission of sounds, gravity, and parallel forces are but a few of the wonders which extend throughout the world. God is the source of all these marvels and designer of all their laws. Future physicists will contribute to world unity not only by finding new forces and building new machines, but also by uniting men's minds in truth, since the laws governing science are universal.

"Raising a Burning Issue" are . . . S. Louer, D. Mrowka, R. Curcio.

"New Dimensions in Sight and Light" . . . are shown by K. Polito, A. Basili, A. Attianese.

"I Have Pull" . . . says T. Caracciolo to M. Montalbano, M. Van Valen, S. Tyszka and R. Dimino as she demonstrates the inclined plane.

"Saluting the Past" . . . is M. McCarthy as P. O'Hara, K. Cummins, K. Volk, J. Jacobsen, R. Rimovics, C. Zoebisich, P. Marr, and B. Burke look at the relics of World War II.

History

From 1492 to 1961, America has come a long way. She is constantly making progress, and we are witnesses of the authors and molders of America's Story. However, before we tread the road to conquest, we must know the past, to help us plan the future. United we stand. This has been and still is our states' history in a nutshell. United in peace, may we be an inspiration to world peace, universal brotherhood under God, our Trust.

"The Big Debate" . . . as given by M. Fisher and M. Hurley while J. Calmthout, A. Maine, F. Meade, K. Reynolds and S. Cottingham await their turn.

"The Goose Hangs High" . . . for R. Tumollilo and P. D'Amato (the Bradley Twins), as they are greeted by E. Sandquist and M. Montalbano (their parents) while R. Mullee (Hugh) teases M. Matarese (the grandmother).

Presenting "Macbeth" . . . are J. Markowski and D. Franza.

English

Fourth Year English is a joyous potpourri of Shakespeare, Milton, Shelley, and Dickens. Elizabethan bards, Victorian novelists, and nineteenth century playwrights fill the pages of English literature. We journey world-wide and learn much by vicarious experience. Perhaps the most enjoyable phases are the colonies of book characters met and loved. All tend to promote a better understanding and sympathy for humanity, regardless of race, religion or political creed, thus developing a spirit of world unity and fostering a spirit of world peace.

Music Appreciation

For forty minutes, four times a week, Seniors unite with the great musicians to hear and enjoy classical and semi-classical, from "La Boheme" to "South Pacific." Appreciation classes develop our ability to read music at sight, teach us how to relax, and prepare us for that longed-for leisure. One realizes that the heart tends toward the better things in life and learns that everyone, everywhere enjoys music.

"Records in Review" . . . as shown by K. LOGAN, M. Finnegan, M. Favicchio, C. Frey, F. McCahill, S. Cottingham, M. Hurley, K. Reynolds, E. O'Donnell, R. Corlito, E. Corso, F. Meade, G. Brigandi, J. Russo, J. Moriengillo, A. Culley, G. SIMONE, L. Chandler, M. Fisher, K. Volk, A. Maine, K. Orkin, J. Calmthout, C. Zoebisch.

"Mastering the Maestros" . . . are E. Kennedy, M. Pelitier, M. McCabe, A. Allen, J. McNeil, M. Bluemke, K. Schaefer, K. Cummins, J. Jacobsen, A. Schultz, E. Blake, and K. Gorman as they look over J. MEEHAN, R. Kennedy, M. Lang, and B. Burke.

"Sine Language" . . . shows that R. Mullee's solution satisfies M. VanValen's graph.

Math

While mathematics computes and solves the problems of physical sciences, Math in itself is a pure science. It concerns the relationship between quantities, magnitudes, and properties. Believe it or not, Math is the key to logical thinking. Orderliness is a must, if accomplishment is the goal. Invariably, if one is able to attempt a math problem systematically, one's mind must be logical and orderly. So let the Math lovers among us get on the job. Just think, you might be the mathematician to teach "parabolas" on the moon.

French

In reaching her final year, a senior is amply Française. Along with the ever present grammar rules, she is delightfully deluged with selected short stories and poems. Her French repertoire includes translations, essays, and lectures. Student conversation sessions are episodes of spontaneous laughter and critical appraisal. For those who have made the most of the previous years of French, senior year is a fulfillment and a reward.

"Our French Chef—Cafeteria Competition???" . . . J. Jacobsen demonstrates her ability to cook to B. Burke, M. Pizzimenti, C. Gorman, C. Skeffington, E. Blake, M. Lang, J. McNeil and M. Pelletier.

Religion

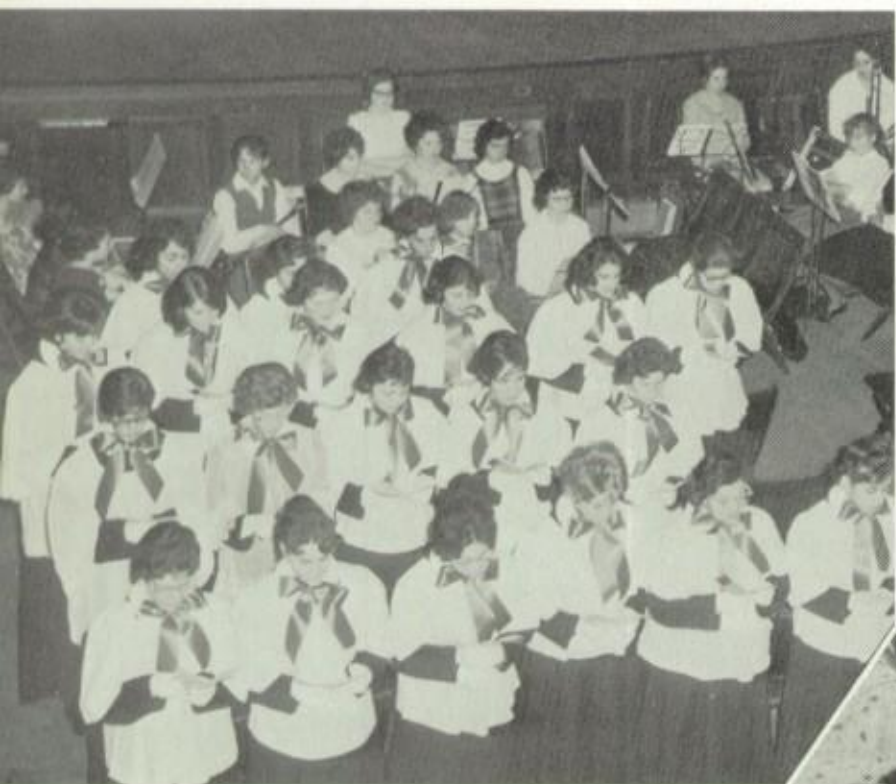

"Go therefore, teach ye all nations. . . ." is the command of Our Lord to include every child of God. As Catholics, this direct mandate is our responsibility. However, common sense tells us that we cannot give to others what we ourselves do not possess. For this reason, in Senior year we enjoy Apologetics—the defense and explanation of our faith. It provides the students with a solid background with which to face the inquisitive and the bewildered. This, combined with weekly sessions conducted by Father Hogan on the Education and Marriage Encyclicals, lays the foundation for a broader knowledge and clearer understanding. It prepares graduates to take up the challenge and lead our separated brethren to unity under Christ.

"United in Prayer" . . . are P. Marr, A. Basili, J. Olanowich, D. Franza.

"Advise and Consent" . . . A. Schultz, C. Gorman, M. Pizzimenti, K. Ging, C. Piasecki, E. Kennedy, K. Schaefer, M. Rosaci.

"Come All Ye Faithful"

"Echoes of Spirit"

"Joy to the World"

"Many Are Cold But Few Are Frozen."

"Good Tidings We Bring You."

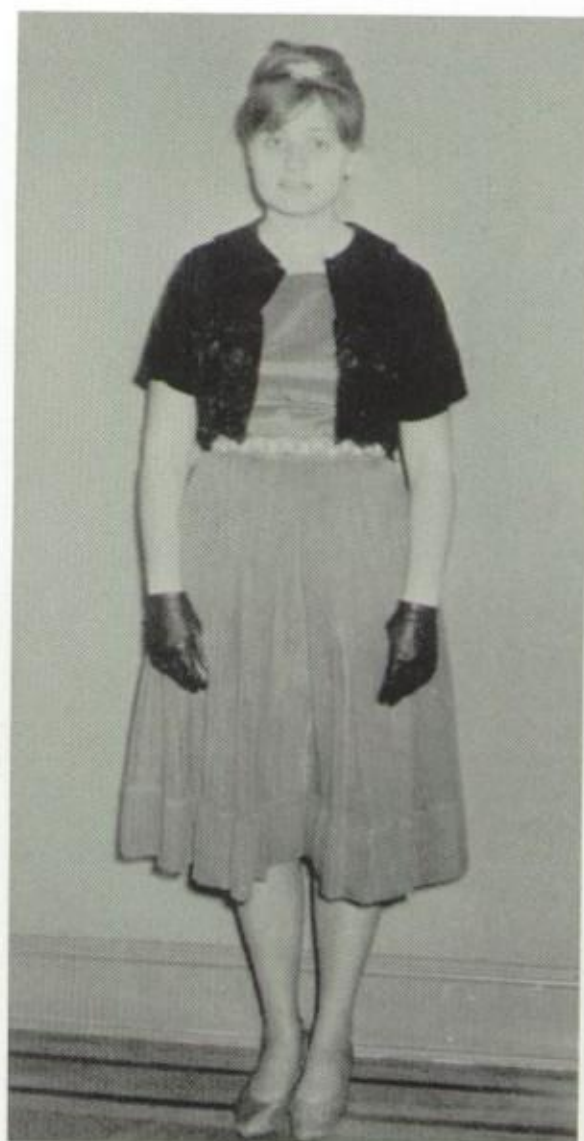

S i l v e r B e a d s

"The King Is Come" . . . M. Bluemke, J. Morengiello, R. Dimino, A. Maine, K. Logan, M. Fisher, M. Montalbano, M. Van Valen, A. Allen, R. Mullee, P. O'Hara, C. Piasecki, M. Hurley, C. Skeffington, P. D'Amato, R. Campoli, G. Brigandi, M. McCabe, S. Tyszka, P. Marr, R. Kennedy, K. Orkin, S. Cottingham, and M. McCarthy.

"Praise Be To Thee, O Lord" . . . sing M. McCabe, S. Tyszka, C. Piasecki, and C. Skeffington.

"In This Little Town" . . . begins narrator A. Attianese.

"My Gift To The Queen" . . . says M. Montalbano, to M. McCarthy, P. D'Amato, and R. Dimino.

"Where's the Sheep" . . . asks G. Brigandi, J. Olanowich, C. Volk, S. Tyszka, K. Orkin, P. O'Hara and K. Ging.

Ring Day

Ring Day is the first gala occasion on our senior agenda. In receiving our rings, the dream of seniorhood is finally realized. The frills, finery, and perfume create lovely sights and scents. But beneath the tingling excitement, every senior mind understands the message of this herald. Ring Day is a forerunner of the other marked days that will bring to end our academy days. Our ring reminds us of our individual destinies, and our obligation of school love and eternal loyalty—"fidelis ad mortem." And years hence, when we shall recall our high school days, our senior ring will bridge the gap of time, supplement our fondest memories, and reunite us in imagination with these happy hours of our Ring Day.

"The Finishing Touches" . . . are put on by M. A. Fisher.

"Getting Ready for the Big Moment" . . . are M. Montalbano, S. Tyszka, D. Franza, and P. Marr.

"Opening the Door To Excitement" . . . is Sister Agnes Michaela.

"Step by Step" . . . M. Matarese, A. Basili, J. Franco, M. VanValen, K. Schaefer, J. Russo, G. Simone, R. Curcio, M. McCarthy, and T. Caracciolo walk to church on Ring Day.

"The Blessings of the Rings" . . . by Father Hogan.

"The Long Awaited Moment" . . . the Seniors receive their Rings.

The Happy Smiles reflect the thoughtfulness of Seniors T. Caracciolo and P. O'Hara as they offer flowers to our Queen.

"The Family Circle" . . . Mr. and Mrs. Montalbano and Mr. and Mrs. Tyszka admire the Senior rings of their daughters Margaret and Sally.

"Sisterly Devotion" . . . shown by J. Schae-der, and J. Pizzimenti to Senior sisters, Kathy and Maria.

"Side by Side" . . . underclassmen B. Hurley and L. Corlito help sisters Margaret and Rosalind.

"Tricky Trio" . . . J. Maine, R. Mc-Carthy and G. McClean and their sisters Annmarie, Margaret, and Kathleen.

Unity Marches On

As we review the past four years, we look back on a unit of our life filled with the traditional joys and trials of high school. We are thankful for the interest and guidance of our Sisters and hope that they will say Aves for us long after we have left. Our departing thoughts are of that essential body—the underclassmen. We hope that they will continue to display the unity, truth, and charity associated with Saint Francis Xavier. May they succeed in achieving, what we have tried to make a reality—the eternal wish of Christ, "That all may be one, Father, as Thou in Me and I in Thee."

In Unison As We View . . .

in retrospect our accomplishments, we can't help but remember you who helped and guided our Gateway to its completion. We wish to extend our cordial thanks to all. Special mention, however, should go to Sister Florence Josephine and her faculty for their ever-present interest to Sister Sheila Maria, for her counsel and encouragement to Sister Anne Monica, her staff, and the Student Body for providing our financial backing to Sister Henry Maria, for her many artistic suggestions to our dear parents for their kindness and self-sacrifice to White Studios for their courtesy and pictures to Mr. John McGuire, and our Publishers, T. O'Toole and Sons, for helpful advice in the printing of our book to all our loyal sponsors, patrons, and advertisers for their generous support.

May we add this precious wish to our thank-you, that God may thank you in the manner that only God can do—with His choicest blessings.

Maria ————— be with you again next year
so we can have some fall
times again —————
Grace

Dear Maria,
 Hope your "senior year" will be as fabulous as our last three.
 Never forget those lively, energetic responding Chorus Classes.
 Be good!
 Love ya,
 Pat.

To Maria,
 Just stay as nice as you are.
 Glad we were together
 this year. Hope it will be like that next year.
 Lots of Luck
 Love
 Pat

Dear Maria,
 Hope next year
 is as fabulous
 as this year has been.
 See you in Sept.
 Love,
 Kathy

Dear Maria,
 I sure hope we'll be in the same class
 next year so I'll be able to elect you secretary
 + you can do just as wonderful a job as you did this year.
 Love always,
 Celia

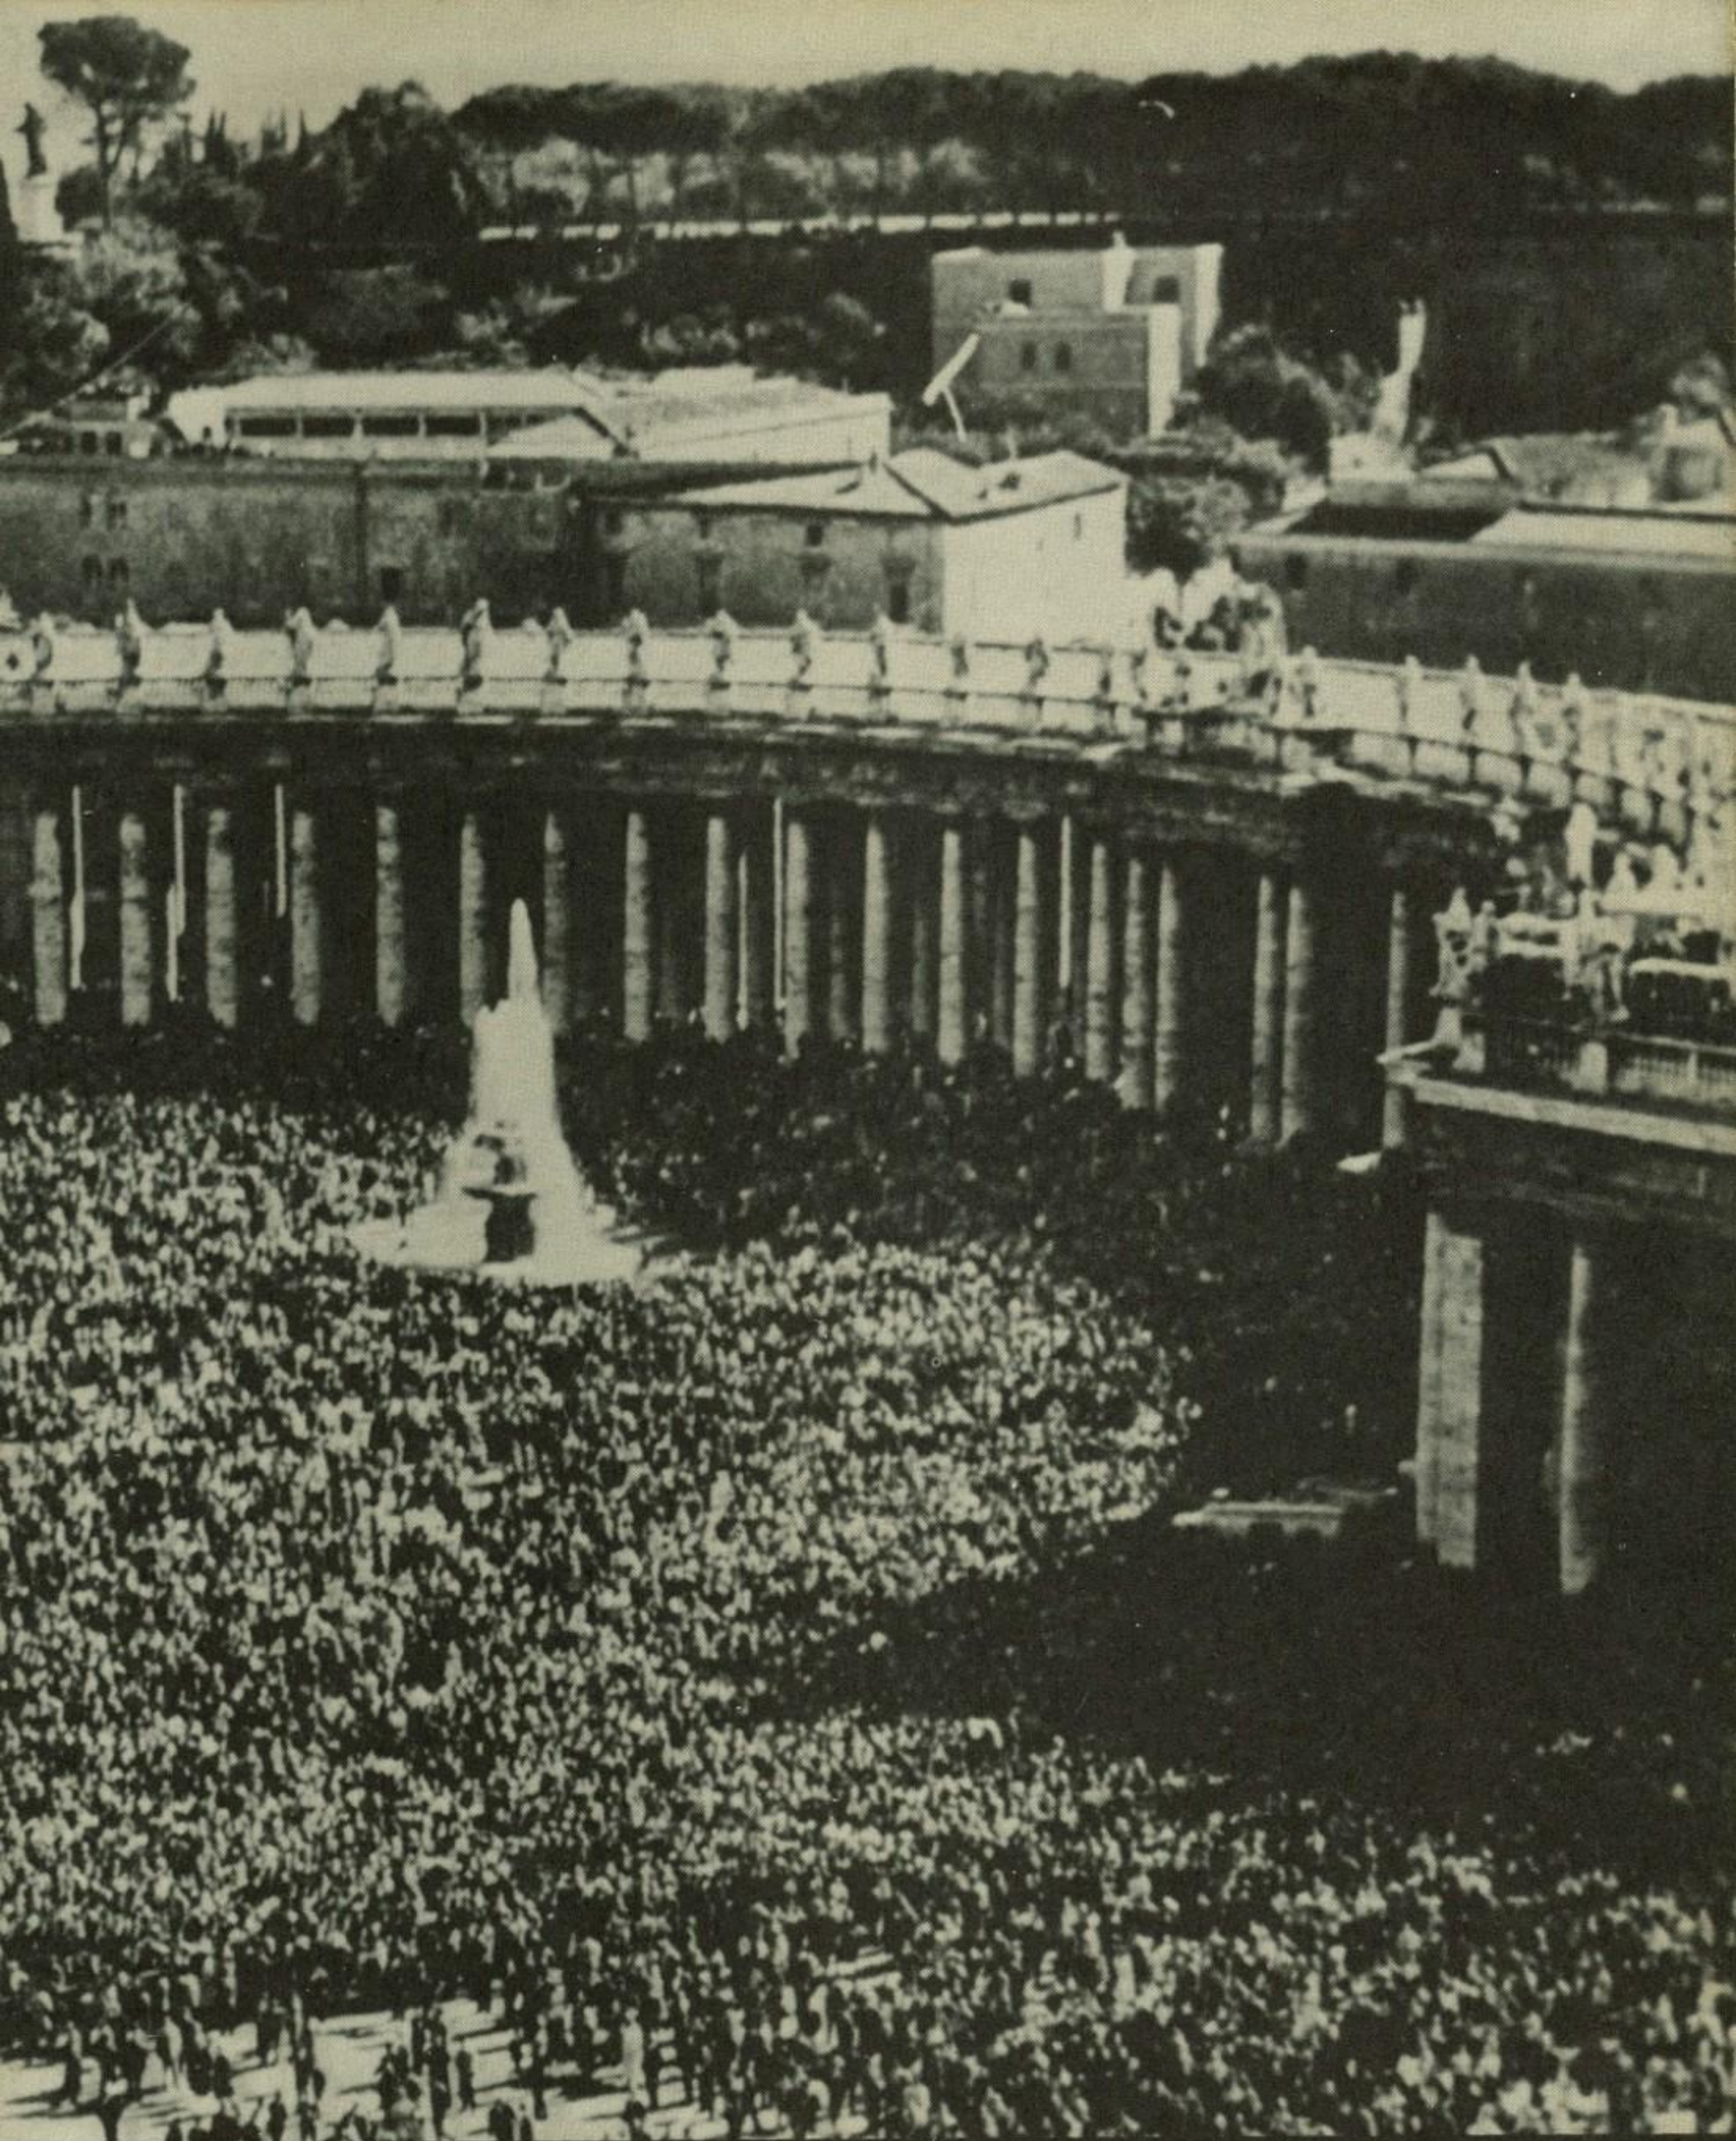

Dear Maria,
 We gotta go skating again next year. Man! What a blast. Hope we're in the same class next year.
 Love,
 Jackie
